Communist China Hoists Flag at UN

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The gold-starred red flag of Communist China was hoisted for the first time at U.N. headquarters today.

The historic task fell to two Americans, Willard Bodie, 28, and George Baldwin, 28, who with 10 other blue-uniformed U.N. guards routinely raise the flags of individual member countries each weekday morning.

The guards raised the blood-red flag of China for the first time since the nation was voted into the U.N. a week ago. The flags are in alphabetical order and China's is 23rd.

A 30-strong crowd of news photographers and television cameramen provided the only color in a light drizzle under leader skies.

Acting Foreign Minister Chi Peng-fei messaged Secretary-General U Thant Sunday that his country should be listed on the U.N. rolls "with the English letter 'C' at the beginning, that is, China, People's Republic of."

That meant that Peking's seat in the General Assembly hall and its flag on the poles outside would, like Nationalist China's before, be between Chile's and Colombia's instead of down in the P's. The flagpole had been flagless since Chiang Kai-shek's government was expelled from the United Nations on Oct. 25.

New York's Rockefeller Center also flies the flags of all U.N. members around its plaza, and China's flagpole there also has been without a flag for the past week. A spokesman said Sunday night that the Communist Chinese flag had been ordered from the same flagmaker that made the U.N.'s, but it had not arrived yet.

War Veterans Conclude March For Peace

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — About 30 Vietnam war veterans concluded a march from Rogers to Fayetteville Saturday and then gave an exhibition of guerrilla war tactics.

The veterans marched from Rogers to Springdale Friday and completed their journey Saturday.

A spokesman for the group said the purpose of the march and demonstration was to call attention to the fact that civilians were still being killed in Southeast Asia even though the war is winding down.

DE QUEEN, Ark. (AP) — Deane F. Whitney, 35, of Newport escaped serious injury Saturday afternoon when his twin-engine plane crashed at the old De Queen airport.

Police Chief Cotton Hughes said Whitney was approaching the airport just north of De Queen when it became apparent that he could not land on the short runway. Hughes said the pilot attempted to pull up, but the plane crashed in the woods on the west side of the airport opposite his approach.

Senate Group Starts Working on Wrecked Foreign Aid Bill

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee confers today amid the ruins of the U.S. foreign aid program to start deciding whether, when and how to put it back together.

Committee chairman Sen. J.W. Fulbright predicted Senate approval of a stopgap aid program, although he said the committee may do no more than discuss the alternatives today.

President Nixon let it be known he wants temporary extension of a coordinated aid bill while he drafts a new assistance program.

Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott also urged passage of an interim program and called on Congress to develop a new bill "to keep the peace." He said he supports temporary extension of aid at existing levels.

1,335 More Troops Are Phased Out

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Thirteen more U.S. Army units totaling 1,335 men were phased out of combat today, prior to withdrawal from Vietnam, and the U.S. Command said American troop strength in the country was reduced to 196,700 men last week.

Informed sources disclosed that Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird is bringing to Saigon Wednesday a broad outline of President Nixon's plan to speed up the disengagement of U.S. ground forces from the war.

The sources speculated that the Nixon administration is thinking in terms of a residual force of 40,000 to 50,000 troops—and perhaps less—by July 1.

Laird will spend three days in Saigon meeting with U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, the commander of American forces in Vietnam, President Nguyen Van Thieu and other Vietnamese officials.

2 Buildings Are Blasted in London

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard ordered a full emergency alert today and posted police guards on public buildings throughout Britain following two mysterious bomb explosions in London.

One bomb early today blasted the headquarters of the Royal Tank Regiment a quarter of a mile from the houses of parliament. Twenty-one hours earlier another ripped a hole in the 31st floor of the Post Office Tower, the tallest building in Britain.

At first the explosions were believed to be the work of the outlawed Irish Republican Army, which has threatened to extend to Britain its guerrilla war on British troops in Northern Ireland. But the IRA in Dublin denied bombing the Post Office Tower.

This morning an anonymous telephone caller claimed both explosions were set off by the Angry Brigade, a secret anarchist movement dedicated to wrecking British society by violence. The call to the British Press Association claimed the Post Office Tower was bombed to protest Britain's entry into the European Common Market and the blast at the Army barracks was to demonstrate against the government's handling of the crisis in Northern Ireland.

Guards will be out in force at Parliament Tuesday when Queen Elizabeth II opens a new session.

The Angry Brigade has been blamed for half a dozen previous explosions in London, including blasts at the home of a government minister and the head of the Scotland Yard police force.

No one was injured in the weekend blasts.

Guards were posted on public buildings and communications centers in London. Scotland Yard flashed warnings to cities around the island, giving lists of possible bomb targets. Police throughout England, Scotland and Wales took up security stations.

Drug Raids in Jonesboro

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Jonesboro police and Craighead County officers arrested 14 persons during two drug raids this past weekend in the Jonesboro area.

Officers said the 14 persons, all in their teens and early 20s, were charged with illegal possession of drugs.

Police said they confiscated a quantity of marijuana and other "unidentified" drugs during the raids.

New Industry Helps Everyone Including County and Schools

To Citizens of Hope:

On November 9, 1971 the people of Hope will vote on two separate Act 9 bond issues which, if passed, will make possible the establishment of a major new industry in this area and the expansion of another.

The Tennessee Forging Steel Corporation of Virginia will establish a plant here to manufacture steel products. It will employ mostly draftsmen, welders and other similar high-skilled people who will live here, spend their earnings locally, and add to the purchasing power in the community.

The Permaneer Corporation of St. Louis has acquired the Wynnewood Products Plant north of Hope, and will expand it by constructing and operating a factory for the manufacture and sale of particle board. This board and related products will be manufactured from shavings and chips to be bought from the Georgia-Pacific Corporation at Crossett. This facility will also greatly add to the payrolls in the Hope area.

Other cities and towns in Arkansas and surroundings states have made strong bids for each of these industries. We are fortunate that they have selected this area in which to locate. They will be strong additions to the economy and purchasing power in Hope and Hempstead County.

The nice thing about it is that these Act 9 bonds are secured only by the machinery in the plants and by the lease-rentals paid by the industry involved. These bonds are not general obligation bonds of the city and there is no risk on the part of the city. The people who buy the bonds take all of the risk, if any, involved. It is necessary, however, for the people to approve the bond issue at an election in order to make the bonds saleable under the law, and because the land to be used belongs to the city.

Each of these industries have pledged to make yearly payments to the schools, city and county in lieu of taxes. These industries will be good citizens and will carry their part of the tax load in the community. I trust that every citizen will go to the polls on November 9 and support this effort to improve our area. If you have any questions about this most important matter, please ask someone who knows the facts. It may be a long time before we have an opportunity like this again. Respectfully submitted,

Sam Strong

16 Ft. Wave Sweeps Over Villages

NEW DELHI (AP) — A 16-foot tidal wave swept through villages along the Bay of Bengal last Friday and local political leaders estimated, after a tour of the area, that 15,000 persons, perhaps as many as 20,000, had perished.

The Indian government radio put the total at 10,000.

It reported that at least a million homes had been destroyed or damaged so severely as to leave 4 million persons homeless in the newest disaster to afflict the Indian subcontinent.

The Cuttack and Balasore districts of eastern Orissa State, 150 miles southeast of Calcutta, appeared to be the areas hardest hit by the tidal wave and accompanying cyclonic winds of up to 100 miles an hour.

The Times of India, in a dispatch from Cuttack, said air drops of food were urgently required in some areas where all roads, rail lines and air strips had been flooded or destroyed.

The low-lying coastal villages are the target of annual cyclonic storms and tidal waves that roar in from the Bay of Bengal and devastate an impoverished region of East Pakistan and India in which the inhabitants survive on a bare subsistence diet even in the best of times.

A storm and tidal wave last November killed at least 300,000 persons in the Ganges river basin in East Pakistan 300 miles northeast of the disaster area this weekend.

The weekend storm passed Sunday from Orissa to neighboring West Bengal state, destroying homes and rice crops in coastal villages that only two months ago were ravaged by the annual monsoon floods.

Planning Head Accused of Law Violation

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Preliminary plans for the construction of an $850,000 minimum security unit at Cummins Prison Farm were approved Saturday by the state Board of Correction.

The unit, part of the prison reform program proposed by Gov. Dale Bumpers, would house 250 inmates. Correction Commissioner Terrell Don Hutto said the facility would be completed in about a year if the board gives its approval.

Final plans and specifications were expected to be ready for presentation to the board in six to 10 weeks. Hutto said he hoped construction could begin in January.

The state plans to use a grant of $500,000 from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration to help finance the unit.

In other action, the board directed Hutto to prepare bid specifications for leasing the farm land at Tucker Intermediate Reformatory again in 1972 if enough money cannot be borrowed from the state to permit inmates to farm the land.

The board also decided to continue to make inmates eligible to apply for five-day meritorious furloughs after they have been imprisoned for one year and in trusty status for six months with no violations of prison regulations.

Investigation of Shooting Death

NASHVILLE, Ark. (AP)—An investigation is continuing into the death of Herbert F. Parton, 43, of Athens (Howard County). He was shot to death Sunday at Athens.

Officials in Howard County said no arrest had been made in the death Sunday night.

Release of Indigent Overruled

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Supreme Court ruled today that James R. Howard, acting as a Circuit Court judge in Pulaski County was mistaken when he ruled that an indigent defendant could not be penalized.

Larry Ray Hall, 21, was convicted March 29 of possessing stolen property and the jury fixed his penalty at $250. Hall asked for time to pay the fine, but his request was rejected and he was committed to the county penal farm.

Howard ruled that Hall should be released, saying that because Arkansas had no specific statute establishing a procedure for paying fines in installments. The court had no choice in the matter.

The unanimous opinion upheld the contention of the prosecuting attorneys office that Howard had misinterpreted a U.S. Supreme Court decision on the rights of indigent defendants.

Because of Howard's error, the state Supreme Court reversed the Circuit Court decision and sent the case back for further development.

The opinion, written by Justice John A. Fogleman, said the U.S. Supreme Court had ruled that the U.S. Constitution had prohibited states from automatically converting a fine into a jail term solely because the defendant is indigent "and cannot forthwith pay the fine in full."

But, Fogleman wrote, the U.S. Supreme Court recognized that there are alternatives to which a state "may constitutionally resort to serve its concededly valid interest in enforcing payment of fines."

The state court cited a number of alternatives available to Circuit Courts and said that while those it listed may not cover every alternative, "it is certainly indicative that the (Circuit) court had alternatives to the unconditional release of Hall."

In a concurring opinion, Associate Justice Conley Byrd said that a defendant "cannot consistently avoid imprisonment for the payment of a fine by persistent impecuniousness."

"Otherwise, we would have an inverse discrimination where the penalty of a fine would be chargeable against only those who work," Byrd wrote.

In other cases, the Supreme Court:

—Affirmed a decision by Chancellor Thomas F. Butt of Fayetteville that American Television Co. could not be compelled by the state Highway Department to remove signs from a tract of land the department had received from the owner who had contracted with ATC to permit the erection of the

Farm Family of Year

DENVER WARD FAMILY

The Denver Ward family, whose farm is located four miles east of Falcon, has been named Farm Family of the Year in Nevada County for 1971 and will be awarded the Nevada County plaque by the Bank of Prescott at a civic club meeting in October. The Wards with other Farm Families of the Year from other counties will be honored at an awards luncheon in Little Rock December 10.

The Farm Family of the Year program is sponsored by Arkansas Power and Light Company and the Arkansas Press Association with the cooperation of the various agricultural agencies. The selection of the Wards was made from a field of several families by the local Farm Family of the Year Committee headed by W.R. Hambright, Executive Vice President of the Bank of Prescott.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward have four children - Gary, 21, married and living at Longview, Texas; Susan, 18, married and living in Dallas, Texas; Dena, 13, eighth grade student at Stamps Junior High School; and Wendy, 6, first grade student at Stamps Elementary School.

The Wards purchased and moved to their dairy farm in 1969. Prior to moving to Nevada County, they had been in the dairy business in Mesquite, Texas, where they started their dairy operation in 1958. They started with thirty cows in 1958, and by 1969 they were milking eighty cows. They are presently milking 170 Holstein cows, and the farm now ranks as one of the largest dairy farms in the state as well as one of the most modern.

The farm consists of approximately six hundred acres with 350 acres being devoted to grain sorghum, soybeans for hay, and milo and corn. Wheat is also utilized for fall and winter pasture and also harvested as haylage which is stored in a new harvestore upright silo. Another silo is used to store high moisture grain. Cows are fed according to production, and the concentrate rations are mixed electronically by a very modern feed mixing machine. Commercial laboratories are used to test forage crops and soils as well as the regular soil testing program of the University of Arkansas. The Production Credit Association farm record keeping service is also utilized by the Wards.

Ample supplies of all kinds of vegetables, beef and pork are produced on the farm for home use. Mrs. Ward makes all the clothes for herself and the two girls at home and also enjoys crocheting and knitting. She also does cake decorating for the public which included cakes for weddings, showers and birthday gin in the western portion of the state by early tonight. The Weather Service said the showers were expected to spread eastward over the state by Tuesday as Arkansas comes under the influence of a stationary front.

Temperatures continued to average about 10 degrees above normal and the Weather Service said little temperature change could be expected until Thursday when a slight cooling trend would influence the state's weather.

The extended outlook called for partly cloudy Wednesday through Friday becoming a little cooler Thursday.

High temperatures should be in the 70s through Wednesday lowering into the upper 60s by Thursday or Friday. Lows were expected to be in the 40s and 50s, the Weather Service said.

Highs Sunday ranged from 85 at Texarkana to 71 at Harrison.

Overnight lows included 52 at Fayetteville, 53 at Harrison, 55 at Jonesboro, 59 at Pine Bluff, 61 at Texarkana, 55 at El Dorado, 60 at Memphis, 57 at Little Rock and 59 at Fort Smith.

No precipitation was reported during the 24-hour period that ended at 7 a.m. today.

Hopeful That School Bill Will Pass

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) —

Speaker Carl Albert hopes to slip a $1.5 billion school desegregation bill through the House today without making Northern liberals face an embarrassing vote on busing.

The bill, a long-delayed administration measure, is being brought up under a procedure that permits little debate and no amendments. The catch is that it requires a two-thirds majority for passage.

When Albert first announced his plan last week, backers of the bill saw little chance of getting such a majority, but the prospect of disposing of the controversial issue so painlessly could provide the needed votes.

The bill has been ticking like a time bomb on the House agenda since August when President Nixon said he wanted it amended to prohibit the expenditure of any of the money for busing pupils to overcome segregation. Southerners have long sought to add anti-busing riders to school bills only to have Northern civil rights supporters override them. Now the busing controversy has reached the North putting the civil rights supporters in a dilemma. If they vote for Nixon's no-busing amendment, they will antagonize the civil rights and labor forces that provide generously for their election campaigns. If they vote against it, they risk serious political damage in their home districts and accusations of hypocrisy from Southerners.

Albert's strategy is designed to spare the Northerners from such a choice. Only 40 minutes of debate will be allowed, then the bill must be voted on without any amendments being offered. The procedure is generally used to speed House action on non-controversial measures.

The desegregation bill, formally titled the Emergency School Assistance Program, would provide $500 million this year and $1 billion next year to help school districts devise special programs, train teachers and otherwise meet added costs of desegregating. The chief cost, however, is busing and Nixon's edict against using the money for that purpose has also created a problem for Southern school officials.

A 3-BEDROOM HOUSE

Plan No. 647708

THREE BEDROOM HOUSE

Three bedrooms, family-living room, kitchen-dining room, living room, two baths and utility room all fit into this brick veneer house designed by the United States Department of Agriculture Cooperative Farm Building Plan Exchange. All of this living area has been arranged within a floor area of only 1,344 square feet. The plan also provides 308 square feet for a carport and 64 square feet of porch.

The "U"-shaped kitchen is on the front so that the housewife can observe the driveway and front part of the yard from the work area. There is ample space for the family eating area between the kitchen and the family-living room.

The utility hall is located off the bedroom area. The location saves the homemaker many steps in performing household chores. It also saves in the plumbing costs since it is adjacent to the two bathrooms.

The outside door is convenient for a family entrance from the backyard as well as for use when hanging clothes outside.

The fireplace in the family-living room provides a flue for the heating unit which can be installed in the utility room. The utility room also contains an outdoor clothes closet, cleaning closet, water heater, washer, freezer and sink. The wall storage cabinets occupy the two long partitions.

Complete working drawings of the plan, No. 647708, may be obtained by contacting the Hempstead County Agricultural Extension Office. These drawings are free of charge.

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED for it, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

THOROUGHLY MODERN MAID DOESN'T WANT MARRIAGE

Dear Helen:
What's with women these days?

They'll love you, even live with you. But, when you ask the perfect one to marry you, that's the end of the affair.

My old pappy always warned me how girls trap men into marriage—how they size up eligible bachelors and hog-tie them as husbands. That was Texas. This is New York, and no female I'd consider is "trapping" this season.

I just lost another great girl because I got too pushy about the future. She loves me, but she wants "no strings." Last night, she accused me of being a "middle-class reactionary with a suburban mentality."

All I want is a wife and family—and I can afford both. Is that a crime? Am I doomed to a single life because I can't find a woman with staying power (brains, personality, chemistry, plus adequate looks) who will commit herself to stay with me? As my latest lost love said, "I want to be free for whatever comes along, and my career comes first."—BACHELOR IN SEARCH OF A LEGAL MATE
Dear Batch:

What you want is a "new woman" superimposed on the basic "traditional female" model, and that's a little hard to find these days...but not impossible.

Though many career girls consider marriage secondary—"Maybe when I'm over 35 and ready to settle down," says one—the right man can often reshuffle priorities—especially if he doesn't act too anxious.

And though I sympathize with you, Batch, I can't suppress a chuckle: Ten years ago that phrase, "Maybe when I'm over 35..." was used exclusively by eligible bachelors as "anxious" girls moaned.

How does the shoe feel on the other foot, men?—H.

Dear Helen:

I can't understand why mind-bending drugs are so popular with the young when it's the older people who need their minds pulled away from worry, misery and other forms of depression. The kids have so much to look forward to. Many of us elders can only look back with regret.

You'd think WE would be the main users.—HOWCOME?

Wake up, man! Elders ARE the main users of drugs which affect the mind. Consider alcohol, tranquilizers, diet pills, "psychic energizers" prescribed by doctors, and a host of other legal turn-ons and turn-offs, not to speak of heavy adult traffic in marijuana and illegal pills and injections.

The number of young people on harmful drugs is scarcely more than a handful compared to the vast amount of adults who are messing up their lives.

Remember that booze, when overused, is still the nation's number one problem. And you seldom see a teenage alcoholic.—H.

Dear Helen:
With VD becoming a national menace, don't you and your readers think it's time we took drastic steps as they have in England and Russia?

In some parts of England, people who don't follow through on their VD treatment (it often takes more than a single shot of penicillin to effect a complete cure) are liable to hear their names broadcast over the air. This is so they can be found.

Russia is even tougher. According to a magazine report VD is a criminal offense in the Soviet Union, and you can be sent to jail for two to five years if you spread the disease. They are especially hard on people who infect minors.

Why don't we get tougher laws here in the U.S.? Or at least launch a national campaign that really works, to fight these diseases?—FEARFUL.

Dear Fearful:
A national campaign—yes. Name exposure and jail—no! VD is a medical, not a criminal problem.—H.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The fuming and complaining about the quality of children's television programs over the past few years is beginning to pay off. There is much over-all improvement in network fare this season, not only in the shows worked into the Saturday morning children's blocks but in the occasional specials.

CBS' "Aesop's Fables" Sunday night, for instance, was a completely delightful half hour, combining film with actors and animated cartoons which told two stories.

Bill Cosby played Aesop, gently emphasizing the points of both fables. Both starred the same winsome little tortoise.

First he wanted to fly like an eagle—only to realize he was happier as he was. Then he won that big race with the hare.

The program's only jarring notes were the commercials—the same Cosby turned up in the role of Mr. Tooth Decay. Perhaps, however, we may be treated to many more of Aesop's Fables told in the same simple and charming way.

NBC's "The Bold Ones" tried a different format in the Sunday program, one of its "Lawyers" segments. During the hour three cases were followed and the picture moved from courtroom to courtroom to report a narcotics case, a rape case and a merc killing.

The shift provided an interesting change of pace, but as a steady diet, the development of a single story line is likely to be more satisfying for the viewer.

NBC provided a big evening of specials on Friday. There was 90 minutes commemorating the grand opening of "Disney World," a new amusement park in Florida, followed by a show called "a special edition" of "The Funny Side."

A great send off for the newest Disney enterprise, the special emerged as an elaborate, expensive hour and one-half commercial for an industrial real estate development.

The extra episode of "The Funny Side" that followed was slipped into the schedule in a last-ditch attempt to focus some attention to a new series which is in ratings trouble. The program was not exactly typical of the series since it had Alan King as cohost. His presence demonstrated one of the series' difficulties—blandness.

PIANIST TRAVELS FAR

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — Voytek Matushevski, a young music student at North Texas State University, claims to be the only pianist in the world who has played for the Nixons, the Brahms and the Kossygnins.

Matushevski, studying here for a musical arts doctorate, won the 1969 young artists' competition of the National Federation of Music Clubs. He is a student of Leon Fleisher and has made concert tours throughout Europe.

The Polish-born pianist began playing at the age of six and made his debut at 14 while a student at the Warsaw Conservatory.

The feeling will be relaxed during the coming holiday season. Designed in Trevira polyester, the long informal look (left) is both casual and elegant. Whether you're "at home" or party-going, the separate combination (right), also in Trevira for easy-care, has the same mood of informal elegance with its ruffled blouse and patterned skirt.

Plentiful Foods Are Good Buys

By GAYNOR MADDOX

According to the Plentiful Foods Program's report, items in good supply for November include turkeys, rice, cranberry products, apple and pear canned products, broiler-fryers and pork. Although reports are not yet all in, the list is expected to be the same for December. That means these foods should be good buys because of their large supply.

Jack Rue, for 18 years executive vice-president of a Maryland canners and freezers association, is the new director of the Agriculture Department's Plentiful Foods Program and sounds like a go-getter.

"Consumers are important, yes. But the quickest and cheapest way to get surplus foods off the market is to go directly to the purchasing heads of the great chain stores, and of group hospitals and nursing homes. They buy large amounts and can quickly reduce the supply of over-plentiful foods," Rue says.

He says that when the supply of a crop rises 10 per cent above normal, the market price for perishable goods drops 30 per cent. The purpose of the Plentiful Foods Program is to keep market prices stable, to prevent maladjustments, whenever possible through persuasion and information.

Prior to Rue's appointment, the program was tied in with School Lunch, Commodity Distribution and Food Stamps programs. These are all now under the Food and Nutrition program of Health, Education and Welfare.

"Now we are free to push the Plentifuls 100 per cent. We have divided the territory into 75 marketing areas and we work mainly with food producers and big industrial groups."

"For example, last April we had a glut of strawberries from the south pile up in the New York markets. So we told New York office to contact the 46 large institutional users of produce. In 24 hours, all those perishable strawberries had been taken off the market certainly at reduced prices."

Another example: Last winter because of a freeze in Florida, planters suddenly planted 8,000 acres to corn instead of the usual 2,000 acres. Therefore, at one time all the corn was shipped to market and flooded it. Rue had his men contact merchants in the Midwest and Southwest and sold all the excess corn.

"For the next few months, cabbage will be in big supply. So we are contacting several large institutions which feed people. They will quickly step in to buy it at a good price and use in salads and other ways."

Running Game Shut Off, Porks Lose

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas netted 50 yards rushing Saturday night against Texas A&M. Usually, the Razorbacks make more than that in one quarter.

The Aggies' ability to shut down Arkansas' running game led to a 17-9 upset of the eighth ranked Razorbacks.

So effective were the Aggies that at one point in the fourth quarter Arkansas failed to make a yard in two tries. Failed so badly that a measurement wasn't necessary.

"Their ability to shut down our running game demoralized us," said Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles. "They controlled our offensive line to the point where we became discouraged and that's a bad situation. Not having success hurt the confidence. We were making only one yard where we had been making five, six or seven."

A&M's offense, hampered by 27 turnovers in its first seven games, played errorless football Saturday night. The Aggies were conservative, throwing only four passes and refusing to attempt high-risk plays.

The no frill attack, fierce defense and superior punting by Mitch Robertson kept the Razorbacks backed up the entire night.

Arkansas gained possession of the football seven times in the second half. Not once were the Razorbacks closer than 73 yards from the Aggies' goal.

"Their offense showed a lot of poise by running right at us, making a few first downs and kicking," Broyles said. "A&M played the kind of game they wanted to play."

Arkansas, then on the other hand, suffered four turnovers. Two fumbles and a pass interception resulted in A&M's points.

The Aggies drove 38 yards for their first touchdown after Steve Burks recovered a fumble punt in the second quarter.

"That fumble flopped the momentum around," Broyles said. Mark Green's two-yard touchdown run gave the Aggies a 7-3 lead and Arkansas never got even.

The Aggies scored ten quick points during the early part of the third quarter.

Dave Hoot recovered a fumble at the Arkansas 45 and Pat McDermost boosted a 34-yard field goal. Two plays later Hoot intercepted a Joe Ferguson pass at the Arkansas 33. Green covered the final 23 yards in one play, breaking two tackles along the way.

Suddenly, it was 17-3 and the situation was serious.

Late in the third quarter, Ferguson moved the Razorbacks 74 yards for their only touchdown. He completed five of six passes in the drive for 59 yards and covered the final seven yards himself. Ferguson slipped on the two point conversion attempt and Arkansas was faced with having to score twice to win. Without a running attack that's a very difficult assignment.

You cannot fault our defense," Broyles said. "We had three breakdowns and that's not bad. Our offensive line did not play a good game. During the week we worked on some things we thought they might do but they didn't. Our game plan might have been a little in limbo. We seemed confused."

The confusion meant missed assignments.

Although Ferguson set school records by completing 31 of 51 passes for 345 yards, the Razorbacks did not score through the air.

"If we had been able to move the ball, chances are we could have been even more successful moving the ball passing," Broyles said. "If we can force them to play the run, the areas to throw in become wider and consequently the yardage greater."

Broyles said Arkansas did not understate the Aggies.

We were not surprised by the way they played," Broyles said. "All the coaches that had played them said their defense was one of the best they had

Trevino Is Winner of Sahara Meet

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Golf Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Lee Trevino, with his sixth title of the year in his pocket and an all-time money winning record in the books, set out for Mexico today in search of a fourth national open golf championship.

That's what I really want to do, win a fourth national open championship for a grand slam, the Super Mex said Sunday after taking the Sahara Invitational and establishing a single season money winning record of $227,243.

Trevino, four strokes off the pace starting the final round Sunday, fired a six under-par 66 and vaulted past third round leader Bob Dickson with a 72-hole total of 280.

It was his first victory since his unprecedented sweep of the American, Canadian and British Open titles was completed in Southport, England, July 11. While most of the American touring pros are taking a couple of weeks off, Trevino is entered in the Mexican Open, a $30,000 event, at the Club de Golf in Mexico City starting this Thursday.

But he hinted that he may change his announced plans of playing in the rest of the tournaments on the American tour. It all depends on the chase for the money winning title.

Big George Archer also had a 66 and took second at 281, but never really challenged Trevino, who has emerged this season as the dominant figure in the game.

Dickson slipped to third with a 72 for 282, falling behind when Trevino reeled off a string of three consecutive birdies starting on the sixth hole. Don January was alone in third at 283, followed by Ron Cerrudo at 285 and Gay Brewer and Fred Marti at 286.

Arnold Palmer, never really a factor, had a final 73 for 290, well back. Jack Nicklaus, who held the No. 1 money winning spot with $207,080, did not compete. Palmer now has $196,206, the best of his fabled career.

the radio and heard he had been taken to the hospital. What Edith and I feared the most we found out to be true." Pittman had two heart attacks while serving on Royal's staff.

"Jim was the kind of guy who wanted to live, wanted to do what he wanted to do, and wanted to enjoy life. Royal said "It was his decision to stay in coaching. I could never visualize him slowing down, not going full speed."

Pittman had become TCU's third head football coach following a successful five years at Tulane where he took a sagging football program and built it into a bowl winner.

He is survived by his widow, Jane, and two sons, Alec, 21, a TCU student, and Brad, 17.

We like Jim Pittman from the moment we first met him," Moody said. "Our admiration grew each day, TCU and all good athletics have lost a great friend, a manly gentleman and a most remarkable leader of young men."

As it is willed or happened, many boys will miss his fine teaching," Martin said. "The loss to his family is greater than ours, but ours is a profound loss indeed."

The TCU team was told of the death at halftime although many said they already knew it.

We told them at halftime to shed their composure and that's what he (Pittman) would want them to do," assistant coach Russell Coffee said. "We wanted to win it for him and in his memory."

McCreary New Coach of St. Louis Blues

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Bill

McCreary took over as coach of the St. Louis Hockey Blues Sunday with a pledge to improve the club's defense.

"I subscribe to the theory of three goals to win. You don't need four or five if you have good defense," he said.

The 36-year-old McCreary, who was coach of the Blues' farm team, the Denver Spurs, was named Saturday night to succeed Sid Abel as coach.

Abel, in his first season with the Blues, was named general manager and Lynn Patrick, who was the GM, is now vice president. The 53-year-old Abel, who spent 30 years as a player, coach and general manager for the Detroit Red Wings, said at a news conference he didn't think he was getting the right response from the Blues players. "I thought maybe we should make a change," Abel said.

Named to succeed McCreary at Denver was Jean-Guy Talbot, a former Blues' defenseman who has been a scout this year. Talbot, 39, played 12 years for Montreal and joined the Blues in 1968.

Old George Does It Again for Raiders

By BERT ROSENTHAL

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Oakland Raiders again are letting George do it—and 44-year-old George Blanda, the oldest player in pro football, is not letting them down, but keeping them up.

Blanda, whose amazing career started in 1949 and now is in its fourth decade, became the game's all-time leading scorer Sunday as he rallied the Raiders to a 20-20 tie with Kansas City and kept Oakland in a first-place tie with the Chiefs in the Western Division of the American Football Conference. Blanda, who replaced starter Daryle Lamonica the last two times Oakland had the ball, fired a 24-yard touchdown pass to Fred Biletnikoff, then kicked an eight-yard field goal with 2 1/2 minutes left.

The tying three-pointer and a previous field goal and two conversions gave Blanda a career total of 1,609 points, one more than former Cleveland kicker Lou Groza. Following the eight-yard kick, the game was stopped and Blanda was presented with the football.

"These things just happen to you when you play 22 years," he said.

On Blanda's first play, he hit Ray Chester with a 37-yard strike, and defensive end Aaron Brown of the Chiefs said later "that first pass gave them lots of confidence ... George has done this so many times it works for them psychologically."

Two plays later, Blanda connected with Biletnikoff, who had outmaneuvered young cornerback David Handley. Handley had replaced injured starter Jim Marsalis immediately before the play. "I'm sure George knew who we had in there," said Chiefs' Coach Hank Stram.

"George Blanda is a rare individual," said Oakland Coach John Madden. "The amazing thing is that he's throwing and kicking better than he did four years ago. We both came to this team the same year and I know he's stronger now than he was then. Don't ask me why. He doesn't have any secret formula that I know about."

The tie kept the Raiders and Chiefs deadlocked with 5-11 records.

Elsewhere in the National Football League Sunday, it was: San Francisco 27, New England 10; Miami 20, Los Angeles 14; Washington 24, New Orleans 14; Minnesota 17, New York Giants 10; Atlanta 31, Cleveland 14; Chicago 23, Dallas 19; Baltimore 34, Pittsburgh 21; San Diego 49, New York Jets 21; St. Louis 28, Buffalo 23; Philadelphia 17, Denver 16; and Houston 10, Cincinnati 6.

In a nationally televised game tonight, Detroit will play Green Bay at Milwaukee.

San Francisco, 5-2, took over first place in the National Football Conference's Western Division, one-half game ahead of Los Angeles, beating New England with the help of John Brodie's 71-yard touchdown toss to Gene Washington.

Miami knocked the Rams, 4-2-1, out of the top spot in the NFC's West, downing Los Angeles on the strength of two scoring strikes by Bob Griese, one a 74-yarder to Paul Warfield. The victory kept the Dolphins in first place in the AFC's East with a 5-1-1 mark, just ahead of Baltimore's 5-2.

Washington, the surprising pacesetter in the NFC's East, built its record to 6-1 and its advantage over runner-up Dallas to two games, holding off New Orleans on Pat Fischer's 53-yard touchdown run with an intercepted pass midway in the final period.

Minnesota, on top in the NFC's Central Division, handed the Giants their fourth consecutive setback on Norm Sneed's 55-yard touchdown pass to Bob Grim with 1:04 remaining. The Vikings are 6-1 to 5-2 for second-place Chicago.

Cleveland, 4-3, the AFC's Central Division leader, dropped its second in a row, as former teammate Dick Shiner of Atlanta helped beat them with scoring shots of 39 yards to Ken Burrow and 23 yards to Jim Mitchell.

Chicago was outgained by Dallas 481 yards to 194 and managed only seven first downs against 26, but upset the Cowboys as Bobby Douglass threw one TD pass and scored three field goals. The Bears thwarted the Cowboys' offense by recovering three fumbles and intercepting four passes.

Baltimore virtually abandoned its strong running game and took to the air, with Earl Morrall passing for 286 yards and touchdowns of 19 and 49 yards to Willie Richardson and 60 yards to Ray Perkins against Pittsburgh.

Nebraska, Oklahoma Keep Rolling

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

Associated Press Sports Writer

With Nebraska and Oklahoma continuing their merry chase toward a Thanksgiving Day college football showdown, there has been a tendency to overlook Michigan, but the unbeaten Wolverines put a stop to that trend Saturday with a 51-7 rout of Indiana.

"Our goal is to go undefeated and win the Rose Bowl," said star runner Billy Taylor, who ripped the Indiana defenses for 172 yards and two touchdowns on only 11 carries, boosting his school record to 2,694 yards and coming within three of Tom Harmon's career mark of 33 touchdowns. "Then they will have to pick us No. 1. I think we're No. 1 right now."

The Wolverines currently are ranked third behind Nebraska and Oklahoma. Nebraska defeated ninth-rated Colorado 31-7 while Oklahoma overpowered Iowa State 43-12.

The top seven teams all maintained their perfect slates. Fourth-ranked Alabama trounced Mississippi State 41-10, No. 5 Auburn downed Florida 40-7, sixth-rated Penn State took West Virginia 35-7 and Georgia, No. 7, stopped South Carolina 24-0, the third consecutive shutout turned in by the Bulldog defenders, who have permitted only 21 points in their last seven games.

The three other major unbeaten continued their winning ways, but two of them needed late field goals. Toledo, ranked 15th, upped the nation's longest winning streak to 31 games by trouncing Miami of Ohio 45-6, matching the 1948-50 Oklahoma teams for the second longest streak in modern times.

Cornell and Dartmouth, the Ivy League pacesetters, are heading for a Nov. 13 confrontation. Cornell's Ed Marinaro gained 272 yards, erasing the major college career rushing standard of Oklahoma's Steve Owens and passing the 4,000-yard barrier, but the Big Red needed John Killian's 37-yard field goal with five minutes left—after Marinaro carried the ball on nine consecutive plays—to edge Columbia 4-21. Dartmouth nipped Yale 17-15 on Ted Perry's 40-yard three-pointer with 53 seconds to play.

Rounding out the Top Ten, ninth-ranked Arkansas suffered its second big upset, bowing to Texas A&M 17-9 behind Mark Green's two touchdowns and a defense that prevented the Razorbacks from establishing a running attack. Ohio State, ranked 10th, stopped Minnesota's Craig Curry inches short of the goal line on a dis-

Bobcats Never Gave Up, Came Back for Win Over Camden

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Last Friday night at Camden, the Hope Bobcats could have laid down in the second half, but that wasn't about the case, as the Cats came back from a 16-7 halftime deficit to overtake the Panthers, 27-22 in a 7AA Conference tilt.

Hope, with a seasonal record of 6-3 and district standing of 4-3, will now prepare for their season finale this week against the Nashville Scrappers.

Down by one point, 22-21, with 4:38 left in the game, the Bobcats received the kickoff at their own 38 yard line after a four yard kickoff return by Tommy Frazier.

Six yards by David Johnson and two incomplete passes left the Bobcats with a fourth and four situation with only 3:28 left on the clock. Although the punting team was called onto the field, Hope called timeout and talked things over. Deciding to go for the first down, quarterback Robie Boyd then hit right end Ricky Hart with a quick pass over the middle to give the Cats a first down.

Five plays later, after moving to within the Panther five yard line, a fumble ball could have been disaster to the Cats, but an alert Lynn Norton covered the ball and the Drive was still alive. With the clock ticking off precious seconds Boyd finally kept himself and went over for the score with 36 seconds showing on the scoreboard.

Although the try for the two point conversion was unsuccessful, Hope still had their 27-22 lead with just over a half minute to play.

Hope had taken the first lead of the game in the second period when Ray Wheelington hit paydirt from three yards out with 8:02 left in the half. Tim puted fourth-period two-point conversion attempt to preserve a 14-12 triumph over the Gophers.

The big news elsewhere ranged from the sublime to the tragic. Eric Allen of Michigan State set a major college record by rambling for 350 yards (he carried 29 times and scored four touchdowns) in a 43-10 rout of Purdue. Coach Jim Pitman of Texas Christian collapsed and died during his team's game with Baylor. The players, informed at halftime that Pitman was dead, rallied to defeat the Bears 34-27.

Michigan's Bo Schembechler apologized for running up 61 points on hapless Indiana. "I didn't think we would win this way," he said, "and I didn't want to. I would have liked a closer game. The coach at Indiana is one of my best friends and I didn't want to beat John (Pont) that way."

"John was not only my teammate, but my roommate at Miami of Ohio," Schembechler recalled. "He was the greatest player in Miami history. They retired his number. He's a great competitor and a class guy. I wish I have as much class as John Pont if I ever get beaten this badly."

John was not only my teammate, but my roommate at Miami of Ohio," Schembechler recalled. "He was the greatest player in Miami history. They retired his number. He's a great competitor and a class guy. I wish I have as much class as John Pont if I ever get beaten this badly."

Both men won $2,437.

Lee Trevino won the tournament with a 280 total.

Best Defender

Veteran Los Angeles Rams receiver Jack Snow says the best individual defensive back in the NFL is Jim Johnson of San Francisco. Snow rates the Dallas secondary as the best overall team unit.

White's extra point made the score 7-0.

However, after a pass interception, Camden scored on a 16 yard toss from Gordon Parham to Stan Perryman and then made good a two point conversion for an 8-7 lead with 2:50 left in the half. About a minute later Thomas Willes fielded a punt and raced around right side for a 66 runback and the second Panther touchdown. Parham then added the two Panther points for a 16-7 halftime lead.

Taking the second half kickoff, the Cats roared back on their first possession marching 51 yards in a slow grinding process to score on a fourth down play from ten yards out on a Boyd to Hart pass with 7:33 left in the third period. Ray Wheelington took a quick pass and made it into the end zone for the two extra points, but Hope still trailed, 16-15.

Then until the fourth quarter no one could mount a drive. However, when the fourth period did roll around, the Cats started to move again.

After Norton recovered a fumble at the Panther 47 yard line, Hope took the ball in to score in seven plays with Johnson getting the final 23 on a trap play. Again the attempt for two failed, but the Cats had the lead this time, 21-16.

Camden wasn't about to be outdone though, and on the ensuing kickoff, starting from their own 12 yard line, marched all the way in just eight plays, the biggest on a 55 yard pass-lateral play, to take a 22-21 margin with 4:38 left in the game.

That's exactly when the Cats did what had to be done—and that was move the ball.

Detroit Wins a Game But Loses Coach

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Detroit Red Wings won a game but lost a coach.

"I asked them if they would win this one for me and they did," said Doug Barkley, who resigned after Detroit's 3-1 National Hockey League victory over Pittsburgh Sunday night. The triumph broke a four-game losing streak. The spin was the main reason for Barkley's departure.

"I just couldn't get the team going," said Barkley, who was replaced by Johnny Wilson, a former Red Wing who coached in the American Hockey League.

The switch in leadership followed two other changes over the weekend. Bill McCreary replaced Sid Abel at St. Louis and Fred Glover succeeded Larry Regan at Los Angeles.

Goaltender Al Smith made Barkley's departure a little sweeter, outdueling Penguin goalie Roy Edwards. The Red Wing was the busier of the two, turning aside 35 shots.

In the other NHL games, it was Vancouver 6, Chicago 2; New York 3, Toronto 3; Philadelphia 5, Montreal 3; Boston 5, Minnesota 2 and California tied Buffalo 2-2.

The Penguins, winless in six games, applied heavy pressure on Smith when they outshot Detroit 16-8 and took a 1-0 lead on Greg Polis' goal at 6:05. Ron Stackhouse scored on a power play at 2:25 of the second period and Red Berenson scored the winning goal at 12:08 for Detroit.

Ted Taylor slammed in two goals in a four-goal outburst in the third period, lifting Vancouver over Chicago. After the Black Hawks pulled into a 2-2 tie on Pit Martin's goal with 5:09 gone in the last period, Danny Johnson shoveled home the go-ahead goal at 8:14 before Taylor's two-goal explosion.

Third period goals by Dave Keon and Jim Harrison salvaged a tie for Toronto. The Leafs trailed 3-1 after New York rattled off a 19-shot first period but put together some tight checking and their late rally to deadlock the Rangers.

Simon Nole scored three times as Philadelphia rallied for five goals in the third period to beat Montreal.

Derek Sanderson and Ken Hodge scored two goals apiece as Boston snapped Minnesota's seven game unbeaten streak.

Buffalo's Kevin O'Shea scored a last minute goal to pull the Sabres into a 2-2 tie with the California Golden Seals in late action on the West Coast.

Brezhnev Trip Shows His Power

By STEPHENS BROENING
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — Leonid I. Brezhnev's trip to Paris last week has confirmed his primacy in the Soviet Communist party and state hierarchy and has presented him as his country's chief foreign policy spokesman.

After ousting the flamboyant Nikita Khrushchev in 1964, his successors appeared to rule as a genuinely collective triumvirate, with Brezhnev as party chief, Alexei N. Kosygin as head of government, and Nikolai V. Podgorny as president.

Brezhnev's gradual rise at home was modestly crowned last New Year's Eve when he appeared alone on television to give the traditional address to the nation.

Then at the 24th Soviet party congress last spring, a flood of personal praise washed over Brezhnev. He had clearly outdistanced his colleagues. But, until his visit to France his supremacy had not been demonstrated abroad.

Though he is head of the ruling Soviet Communist party, Brezhnev demanded and got honors usually reserved for a chief of state. Presumably Brezhnev will continue to lead Soviet negotiations with the West, a task formerly the domain of Kosygin. While France, for its own reasons, was willing to discard established protocol by giving him head-of-state treatment, other nations may be reluctant to do so. As a consequence, some observers are wondering whether Brezhnev, like his predecessor, will eventually combine his party post with that of head of government.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Air pollution may cause another ice age, warns a Japanese meteorologist, Dr. Tadashi Yano. He says that in the last 30 years waste particles in the atmosphere have already blocked enough sunlight to cause the average world temperature to drop nearly one degree.

Earthquake damage isn't limited to California or Alaska. Scientists say major destructive quakes can occur in at least 19 other states. They are Nevada, Washington, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Utah, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Kentucky, Indiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, South Carolina, New York, Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, and Massachusetts.

You don't have to have money to buy things in Barrow, America's northernmost settlement. Stores there will accept pelts and whale meat as payment.

How much do you spend for food? The average American spends 16.4 per cent of his disposable income for food. In England the figure is 26 per cent; in West Germany, 28 per cent; in France, 31 per cent; in Japan, 40 per cent; in Russia, 50 per cent.

Finny Marskmen: Some fish can shoot down their prey. One variety, the archer fish of Australia, is only nine inches but can fire a jet of water that will bring down an insect three to four feet away. The fish does it by filling its mouth with water, then flapping its gills shut sharply.

Worth remembering: "Most girls are looking for a man who is tall, dark and has some."

Know your language: Ever wonder where the word "spinster" comes from? It literally means "one who spins." It was the custom in medieval Britain for unmarried girls to spend their time spinning. Since the 17th century it has been applied to unwed women past the usual age of marriage.

French Style Green Beans Recalled

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) —

An official of Stokely-Van Camp Inc. has called on the Food and Drug Administration to state publicly that 15,000 cans of french-style green beans ordered recalled last week are free of botulism.

The request came after the Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta reported Saturday that a Marine captain and his son who were hospitalized after eating a can of beans that "didn't taste right" were not suffering from botulism poisoning.

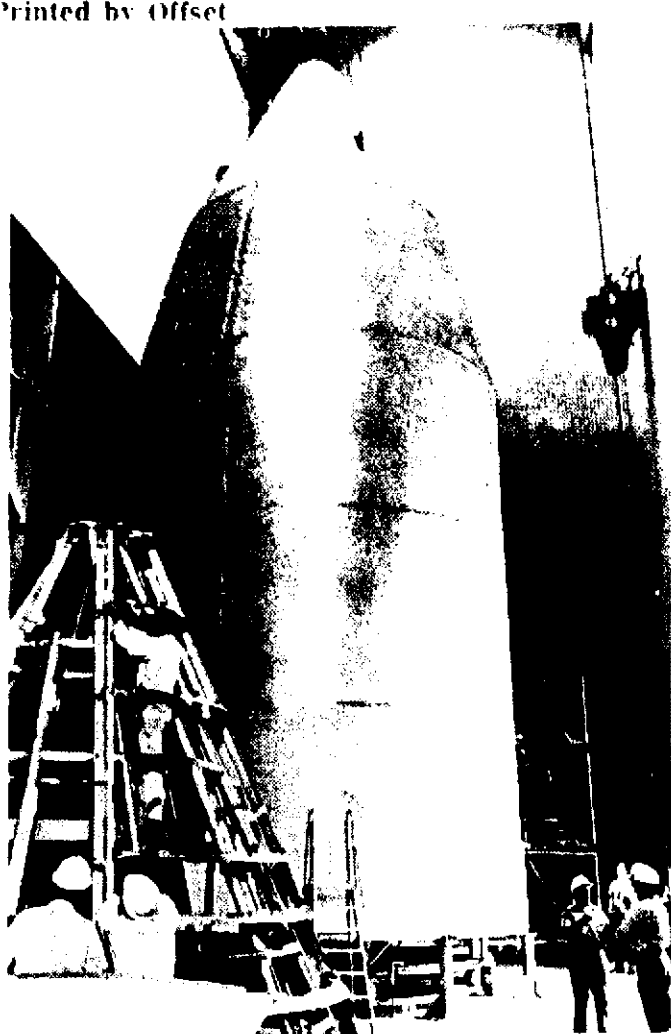

After an initial test on blood samples from Capt. William Cleveland Jr., 27, and his 4-year-old son William III, the center had reported a "suggestive diagnosis of botulism." A later series of tests, however, indicated "no botulism at all," the center said.

Cleveland and his son were admitted to the Pensacola Navy hospital Wednesday night and treated for suspected botulism poisoning.

On Friday, after doctors at the hospital said the Cleveland's may have eaten contaminated green beans, Stokely-Van Camp ordered a recall of a 15,000-can shipment of beans.

"It has probably cost us millions of dollars right now on the basis of the insult that has happened to our product," said David McVey, a senior vice president of Stokely-Van Camp. "For a hundred years we've sold Stokely products completely free of any question of wholesomeness."

In Washington, a spokesman for the FDA said the federal agency would continue to examine cans from the shipment.

Nationwide Coal Strike in 2nd Month

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nationwide coal strike moved into its second month today with mounting economic consequences in the key coal states and no hint of progress in contract talks.

In the month-old East and Gulf coast dock strike, negotiators have agreed to move their talks outside New York City to escape the pressure of daily obligations and concentrate on bargaining.

No decision on a site for the talks was reported and the first session at the new location was not expected before Wednesday.

As the coal strike passed the one-month mark, thousands of miners became eligible to receive federal food stamp assistance.

West Virginia Welfare Commissioner Edwin Flowers said Sunday that the stamps had been stocked at welfare department offices throughout the state in anticipation of a flood of applicants.

So far the strike by 80,000 United Mine Workers members has cost an estimated $450 million in lost wages, sales and taxes in the 20 states most affected by the walkout.

It has led to employee cutbacks by railroads which depend heavily on coal hauling and resulted in diminished stockpiles at utility companies and steel plants.

If the coal strike goes on, we certainly anticipate more furloughs," said a Norfolk & Western spokesman. About 5,500 N&W workers had been laid off as of Friday.

In the dock strike, the International Longshoremen's Association walked out at most Atlantic and Eastern Gulf coast ports when contract negotiations in New York broke down over the issue of a guaranteed annual wage.

Successful court actions by shipping associations in Philadelphia and New Orleans resulted in those ports being reopened last week. Most West Gulf ports, including Houston and Galveston, have never shut down.

Dock workers in Houston refused Sunday to unload two foreign ships when they found pickets from six other maritime unions at the dock. Lawyers for the owners of the ships sued to enjoin the unions from what they termed "illegal picketing."

Rotary Club Speaker

LLOYD FRANKLIN

"There is no surgery whereby a new idea can be grafted to a closed mind," said Lloyd Franklin of Shreveport in a talk before the Hope Rotary Club Friday, October 29 in the Town and Country. Introduced by Rotarian Henry Sinyard, the speaker, who is associated with an insurance company in Shreveport, explained that he was born on an island in the Caribbean and reared in the Presbyterian Church. After coming to the United States, he was a member of a Methodist Church for a time. Despite his Protestant background, there was a dissatisfaction in his effort to "know the truth and the truth shall make you free." Then, he discovered the philosophy of Yoga in a Hindu book, and the way it dealt with the material and the spiritual seemed to meet his needs. From its inception in the Dark Ages to the present time, Yoga has taught "You will never die."

Dr. Sam W. Strong, Rotary Club President, had charge of the meeting and welcomed the members and two guests, Postmaster Arthur Jennings of Texarkana and Assistant Postmaster T.J. Barber of Hope.

Israel Is Building Up Suez Defense

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) —

American intelligence analysts are telling U.S. officials that Israel is strengthening its defenses along the Suez Canal, showing no sign of intention to pull back.

The reports, circulated in the past 10 days, come at a time when Israel and Egypt appear to be toughening their diplomatic positions.

U.S. diplomats have been trying to arrange an interim settlement that, among other things, would include a ceasefire, withdrawal of Israeli forces from the canal, and Egyptian crossing of the canal to clear and open it.

Defense sources said the Israelis have thrown up a tall, earthen wall along the entire length of the Bar-Lev line, a system of underground bunkers linked by trenches.

Built into the wall are more than 150 protected ramps onto which tanks could be driven to bring their guns to bear on any Egyptian forces crossing the canal.

Israeli engineers also have provided about 50 passageways through which infantry and armor could counter-attack, U.S. sources said.

An extensive effort is under way to improve and enlarge strong points. Reports tell of large quantities of pre-cast concrete modules, barb wire, sandbags and other materials stocked in those strong point areas. The areas are manned by infantry rifle companies supported by tanks.

Over the weekend, a Lebanese newspaper claimed Egypt has prepared a plan for limited crossings of the canal, to be followed by a major invasion of the Israeli-occupied Sinai Peninsula.

U.S. sources have reported in past months the Soviet shipment to Egypt of increased numbers of troop-carrying helicopters. And, there have been recent reports of Egyptian troops engaging in night helicopter exercises.

Furthermore, Russians are said by U.S. sources to have provided the Egyptians with amphibious and mobile bridge equipment that would be required in mounting a sizable cross-canal offensive.

Memphis Grocer Tired of Robbers And Firebombers

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Look Fong, owner of a Chinese grocery in Memphis, says he is through putting up with firebombers and robbers and is closing his store to move his family to New York.

"Memphis is too dangerous. I'm going to New York. I can't live here anymore," Fong said after his store was firebombed a week ago.

He said he was sitting in the rear of the store after closing Oct. 24 when someone threw a firebomb against the rear of the building. Fong said he rushed into the adjoining building, where he lives, and escorted his wife and three small children outside.

"He didn't want to stay there any longer," said Fong's friend, Sherman Reed, who lives next door. "I took them into my home until their relatives came and got them."

"I don't know why they keep bothering Fong. He wouldn't do anybody any harm. He's a nice guy."

Reed recalled that several months ago a teenager jumped over the counter, grabbed Fong and robbed him of $300.

Reed also remembers when someone shot into the store and a bullet glanced the side of Fong's face.

Fong's store was firebombed again last Wednesday. The roof and a rear wall were damaged in the fire.

The grocer boarded up the store windows after the first firebombing and went to live with Memphis relatives, but his troubles did not end.

The same night his store was firebombed, burglars forced open the front door and ransacked the building.

"I'm leaving Memphis," Fong said. "Too much trouble. Nothing but trouble."

HHS Students Attend Workshop

Five Hope High School publications staff members and Mrs. Mary Nell Turner, adviser, attended the Fourth Annual Journalism Workshop at Henderson State College October 9.

Steve Routon, editor-in-chief, Jim Hart, Terry Becherer, and Brenda McCorkle, associate editors, represented the Hi-Lights staff. Mary Jane Reyenga, Bobcat co-editor, represented the yearbook staff.

"We obtained some new and interesting ideas as well as some good advice from Mrs. Lillian Hefner, executive secretary of the Texas High School Press Association. 'Don't just look on. Don't just sit on the sidelines. Be a participant,'" said Brenda McCorkle.

The New Yearbook was discussed by Jim Paschal of the University of Oklahoma Journalism Department.

The 300 delegates from as far away as Fayetteville were guests of the college for lunch.

Miseries of War Seen by President Thieu

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

BIEN HOA, Vietnam (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu walked among the sad little people today and saw and heard the miseries of war.

There were tears and bitterness as Thieu paid his respects to South Vietnam's war dead at the Bien Hoa national cemetery.

Haggard widows of only a few days, in mourning dress with babies in their arms, cried at Thieu's side. The babies cried, too.

Some widows and relatives cursed the president behind his back.

"Nguyen Van Thieu, where is my son? Where is my son?" one woman cried, but Thieu was too far away to hear her.

"You live well, you have a big house," cried another when Thieu was out of hearing distance. "But my husband is dead, leaving his six children. How can I feed them? I curse your ancestors."

Thieu moved among scores of graves, from those of privates to a general's, lighting incense.

He stopped at the cemetery's mortuary where four new coffins were draped with the flag of South Vietnam. The men had been killed in the past few days while on operations in the Saigon area helping to provide security for Thieu's gala inauguration Sunday.

The president spoke briefly with each of their widows, presented them money, then lighted incense at each casket.

His face was drawn, and he appeared to be deeply moved.

Thieu's visit to the cemetery just north of Saigon was part of the observance of National Day, which included prayers for peace and other tributes to the 135,000 South Vietnamese troops who have been killed in action since 1960.

The World Almanac notes that a "dark horse" is usually chosen as a compromise when neither presidential rival obtains a majority vote. Presidents Polk, Pierce, Garfield and Harding were "dark horse" candidates.

Queen of Turf Bids Farewell to Racing

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Shuvee, the Queen of the turf, bade a regal farewell to racing by winning the grueling $111,500 two-mile Jockey Club Gold Cup for the second straight year.

It was one of the turf's most memorable moments as the 5-year-old mare put in a smashing final quarter of 25 seconds for an impressive seven-length victory on a balmy, Indian Summer Saturday afternoon at Aqueduct in New York.

Aware that they were witnessing an amazing performance by a great mare winners and losers alike in the crowd of 42,041 gave her a rousing ovation as she drew out in the stretch under a mere handride by jockey Jorge Velasquez. Even hardened observers in the pressbox stood up and applauded.

It seemed that the daughter of Nashua knew how to make a dramatic exit.

"She just took off on her own," Velasquez said. "I never used the whip or even showed it to her."

The Virginia-bred mare ran the two miles in 3:20 2-5 under 121 pounds in the weight-for-age test of stamina and paid $4.60. Paraje outthrust Loud by two lengths for the place.

Shuvee earned $66,900 and boosted her all-time money winning mark for a filly or mare to $890,445. She retired with 16 victories in 44 career starts for owner Mrs. Whitney Stone, plus 10 seconds and six thirds.

An estimated 200,000 units of sheep graze the Navajo Reservation.

Coach Tries to Explain Hayes Walkout

"I think he is upset because he is not playing like he wants to," said Houston Coach Tex Winter in trying to explain the unexpected walkout of his star center, Elvin Hayes.

Hayes, the Rockets' high-scoring 6-foot-9 pivotman, left Sunday night's National Basketball Association game against Buffalo in the second quarter and did not return.

Despite Hayes' absence, the Rockets went on to win 102-87, but it was only their second victory in 10 games this season.

In other NBA games, Milwaukee beat Cleveland 118-102, and Golden State defeated Los Angeles 109-105.

Hayes, who scored 10 points before his surprising departure, said he left because of an injured leg. But Winter, in his first season as Houston coach, apparently thought otherwise.

"He's not as effective as he would like to be," said the former Kansas State and Washington coach. "He makes it very difficult for me to coach the team as a unit. I don't think the way some of the players have been playing is good enough. I think we can do better if we can play together as a unit."

Doctor Can Diagnose Worms

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.
Dear Dr. Lamb — Two years ago after having a bad case of flu I went to blow my nose and what I thought was accumulation of mucus, about the size of a ball point pen, came out. Three months ago I coughed and the same thing happened only I had to grab a hold of it and pull it out. I am wondering if this could have been a tape worm. It it were mucus it would have broken. There were no signs of a head. I am 67 and tire so easy. I have headaches all the time. Up until a year ago I worked as a saleslady for 40 years. So I am not lazy, just don't feel like doing anything. How can I tell if this is a tape worm? I am ashamed to even go see a doctor about it.

Dear Reader — It isn't a tapeworm. They are flat like a tape measure and connected in segments which break apart easily. About the only worm that could conceivably be near the size and shape you describe would be a "round worm" (ascariasis). Adult worms have been described coming from the nose and even the ear. I am skeptical about your having any infestation. If you had any real thought at the time that the object was a worm you should have saved it to let the doctor examine it. If you do have a round worm infection your doctor can easily diagnose it.

Also, I stopped menstruating when I was 37, one year after my fourth baby was born. I stopped completely. I am now 61 years old. If I ever start again will it be cancer?

Dear Reader—Your problem is most likely related to your four pregnancies. With childbirth the muscles at the outlet of the pelvis and those that provide support to the uterus and bladder are often stretched or even torn. The uterus and bladder tend to fall through the pelvis and cause the vaginal wall to protrude. Sometimes a woman is more apt to get infections of the bladder with this type of problem.

The difficulty can be corrected surgically by replacing the structures and tightening up the relaxed or torn muscles.

Bleeding after the menopause does not always signal cancer but it is certainly a valid reason for an immediate examination since it can be.

PERSONAL FINANCE

By CARLTON SMITH
Have you noticed the thoughtful look on a lot of faces since the news got around that the Internal Revenue Service is so busy with other matters that it won't be able to audit many tax returns next year?

Because the IRS drew a major role in administering wage-price controls, many of its agents are busy policing prices. Officials have said the IRS won't have enough manpower to ferret out many of the garden-variety tax dodgers next year; they'll have to concentrate only on major evasion cases.

So it sounds like a good year to make a little mistake in your deductions, and save a few bucks on taxes? Sorry, fellas—you're a year too late.

The IRS always works with a lag of one to two years in auditing returns. The one you file next, in April, 1972, will then start working its way through the computers, and not until early '73 will the Martinsburg Monster have picked out all the returns that are candidates for an audit.

The Monster, an enormous electronic brain at the IRS national computer center, applies to each return a secret formula known as "DIF" to identify figures that are suspect. Then examiners go over these re-

Oswald: "Ely Culbertson was a great showman and publicity genius. Back in 1935 he persuaded Hal and Dorothy Sims to play a rubber bridge match against him and Jo Culbertson. The match was a natural from a publicity standpoint and also a cinch for Ely. Jo Culbertson was a great player; Dorothy Sims a poor one."

Jim: "Here is a hand which shows Jo Culbertson at her best. It also indicates why the Sims had no chance. Three no-trump was unbeatable but Hal wanted to score his honors and also to play the hand."

Oswald: "Jo opened the four of spades. She could see that Ely would not show up with much and decided on desperate measures."

Jim: "The desperate measures succeeded. Sims elected to try dummy's jack of spades at trick one. Ely produced the queen and returned a trump. Sims drew trumps and decided to knock out the ace of clubs. Jo went up with the ace and underled her ace of spades a second time. No one can blame Sims for going wrong and playing low from dummy."

Oswald: "Hal could also have made the hand by taking a diamond finesse and discarding a spade but that play would be had percent-age. He was sure of his contract if East held the ace of clubs and still had a chance in spades after Jo won the club trick."

You have three clubs. Your partner has three no-trump. What do you do now?

has made its way back to your local district, and you get a phone call saying the district director would like a few words with you, it may be as late as June 1974—well in the future, when IRS agents will doubtless be free again to spend their time running down tax dodgers.

So, sorry about your missing an opportunity to make a mistake, fellas. The time to make it was on your 1970 return, if you'd had a crystal ball in good working order.

Watch for news from the Japanese auto makers over the next few months. It might well influence your plans for when you'll trade in, and what you'll buy.

One of the people on the staff of the Arthur Lipper Corp., a brokerage-investment firm with heavy overseas interests, has tipped the company that Toyota's done it with the gas-turbine engine.

For years automotive engineers have tried to build a small gas-turbine engine, practical for use in passenger cars. But up till now, the only kind anyone's been able to build is large-size. They're in fairly widespread use for long-haul trucks and buses, in the United States and elsewhere.

Lipper's tipper says Toyota has actually succeeded in developing an engine of passenger-car size. It isn't likely to mean cars in dealers' showrooms until at least 1973—but it should be, if true, huge news for car buyers.

Meanwhile, another Japanese auto maker, Nissan, is well along on production plans for a car with a rotary engine—which could also shake up things, worldwide, in the auto industry.

Like the turbine, the Wankel rotary engine has been around for a long time . . . on the drawing boards. Its German inventor produced the first working model back in the Fifties, a revolutionary design with about as many working parts as a doorknob—and, again, no pistons banging back and forth.

Nissan has evidently, at last, worked the production bug out of the design. Its schedule calls for cars rolling off the line some time in 1973.

Says Gilmore Will Outdo Bill Russell

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Artis Gilmore is only a rookie and hardly anyone would mention him in the same breath with Bill Russell, the former Boston Celtic great.

Hardly anyone, that is, except Rick Barry of the New York Nets. Barry thinks the Kentucky Colonels' 7-foot-2 center will eventually be better than Russell.

"He can shoot better," says Barry, "and once he learns how to play defense, once he knows where he has to go on the court, then he'll be better than Russell."

But while Gilmore continues to impress Barry, he doesn't do the same for Manny Leaks. The Nets' forward-center matched muscle with Artful Artis in the fourth quarter Sunday night, helping the Nets bounce the Colonels 107-103 in the American Basketball Association.

Leaks admits he doesn't find the former University of Jack-

"I don't let him make a fool out of me," said Leaks after forcing Gilmore to foul out and then scoring the go-ahead basket with 4:20 to go.

In the night's other ABA games, the Virginia Squires hammered the Pittsburgh Condors 134-124; the Memphis Pros ripped the Denver Rockets 117-106 and the Dallas Chaparrals topped the Indiana Pacers 125-108.

Gilmore wound up with 13 points and had 17 rebounds. Barry scored 25, high for the winners, while Dan Issel led Kentucky with 42.

Charlie Scott scored 36 points to lead Virginia over Pittsburgh; John Beasley came off the bench to score 22 points and lead Dallas over Indiana and Bobby Warren's 28 points powered Memphis over Denver.

sonville ace a problem.

"I don't let him make a fool out of me," said Leaks after forcing Gilmore to foul out and then scoring the go-ahead basket with 4:20 to go.

In the night's other ABA games, the Virginia Squires hammered the Pittsburgh Condors 134-124; the Memphis Pros ripped the Denver Rockets 117-106 and the Dallas Chaparrals topped the Indiana Pacers 125-108.

Leaks appears to have a personal war going with Gilmore ever since the Colonel giant "tried to stuff a ball" in his face at Louisville, Ky. earlier this year.

Leaks said he was thinking about it while on the bench Sunday, "but I didn't try to use it as a psychological factor once I got into the game."

The 6-7 Net, who played the last quarter, induced Gilmore's last two fouls. Then he shot in a field goal to give New York a never-headed 97-95 lead.

Gilmore wound up with 13 points and had 17 rebounds. Barry scored 25, high for the winners, while Dan Issel led Kentucky with 42.
